William Lamb, a leading Aliegheny politician.

In the indictments are allegations of combiracy to procure false registration and fraudulent voting; the procuring of the false registration and fraudulent voting, and conspiracy to issue fraudulent tax receipts.

The charges, it is said, are based upon the November election of 1906, and are the outgrowth of a crusade waged by the Voters' Civic League of Aliegheny. All of the accused to-day gave ball in the sum of $2,000 each.

Several months ago the Voters' Civic League employed lawyers and detectives to gather evidence, and it is claimed that about 700 or 800 affidavits were secured from persons who used the alleged bogus tax receipts, which they claimed were given them by men identified with political affairs in Allegheny.

When the evidence had been collected the league transferred the matter to the district attorney.
